

Creation Psalms

Biblical Spirituality for an Ecological Crisis

Many Christians are becoming aware that the world is in an environmental crisis and that taking action on issues like carbon emissions, wildlife conservation, energy use, transport, and diet, is central to their Christian discipleship and mission. What isn't so easy is making a connection between their faith and their concern for creation.

Creation Psalms will help to bridge that gap, through focusing on psalms that address issues about creation and the proper place of humans within it. This resource will give you a fresh appreciation of nature, a renewed confidence in the love of God for you and all creation, and a sense of empowerment rooted in prayer from which to take creative action for the sake of a world in trouble.

alexmabbs.com/creationpsalms

Alex Mabbs